And specifically defined disclaimer with regard to stem cell therapy:

We deliver stem cell enriched treatments in the course of stem cell therapy – to include BMC (Autologous bone marrow concentrate – taken from and delivered back to the patient in a specific pre-determined method) and HUVEC (Allogeneic Human Vascular Endothelial Cells from a licensed tissue bank which are deployed according to specific pre-determined methods) Umbilical Cord Stem Cells. The methods do not single out any one particular cell group, as no differentiation of the cells has yet occurred. This is provided as a service and as a practice of medicine only wherein the physician and the patient are free to consider their chosen course of treatment. This procedure is not a drug nor do we claim it to be a cure for any condition. Our protocols follow the 'same-day tissue transfer' guidelines and 'minimal manipulation' guidelines as set forth by the FDA.
